WHIPPING POST FOR IRISH TOM

Judge Swope Declares that would have Made him a Decent, Sober and Industrious Citizen. Banished from the County.

That Irish Tom would have been a decent, sober and industrious citizen if he had been punished by the whipping post method was declared by Judge Swope this morning when the big Irishman came up for sentence on the charge of being a tramp.

The prisoner was banished from the county the Court declaring that if he were found within the bounds of Adams County after Monday his arrest would be ordered and he would be placed in jail until November, the Sheriff being instructed to see that Tom should get nothing to eat but ordinary prison fare and should have no exercise but what was absolutely necessary.

When Irish Tom was called Judge Swope asked him his full name.

"Tom Kelly, your honor," answered the prisoner.

"How old are you?"

"Fifty nine, your honor."

"Just the age of the Court. How long have you been in this country?" asked the Court.

"I was born in Ireland and came to this country 28 years ago. I work every once in a while. Not long ago I was working on a trolley line near Newville. When I came here I sold a watch and got on a little spree and I'm sorry for what occurred. Liquor is my downfall. Sometimes the appetite is stronger than the will. I have no desire for drink now."

"What will you do after you are liberated?"

"I'll make an effort to keep from drink," said the Irishman smiling. "I usually work awhile and then get on a spree. Then I work some more."

"Yes, Tom, you know just what to do to get imprisoned without committing a serious offense," said the Court. "You and some others are among the State's most annoying residents and I believe the whipping post is the only solution to the problem you present. I suppose you think the kindest thing I could do for you would be to order your imprisonment until the blue birds sing again."

"I'll have to leave that to you, your honor," was the answer.

"Don't you think the county of Adams has taken care of you long enough?" was the next question.

"Yes, your honor."

"The Court will suspend sentence in your case. If you are found in this county after Monday I will order your arrest and will impose imprisonment until November first, throughout the good old Summer time, with common prison fare and no more exercise than is absolutely necessary."

"Thank you, your honor," answered Tom.

The only other prisoner brought for sentence was John Nugent, who also pleaded guilty to a charge of being a tramp. He was sentenced to one month in the county jail. The man is a gentlemanly looking person and when this fact was commented upon by the Court declared that he always tried to conduct himself as a gentleman.

Judge Swope declared that while under the influence of liquor the man had entered town homes and had frightened a number of young people. The Judge's own home was one of those visited. The prisoner said he had no intention of scaring anyone and promised to seek employment as soon as released. He gave Frederick county as his home, though he claimed no "fixed place of abode." The prisoner testified that he had never been married.

The sentence imposed was one month in the county jail where he was placed about five weeks ago at the time of his arrest.

SPLITTING IN TWO

According to Prof. J. E. Gould, head of Astronomy at the University of Washington, Seattle, "comet A 1910" which is now visible in the Western sky just after sunset, shows signs of splitting in two.

"I notice a peculiar feature of the comet's tail," said the professor. "It was not continuous as such tails usually are. This is to be attributed to certain electrical disturbances which have been noted in comets just before they split in two."

WILL COST $12,000,000

The subsidiary which will build the extension of the Western Maryland railroad from Cumberland, Md., to New Haven Pa., to a connection with the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, will it is understood, be organized within the next six weeks and the method of financing the new link also will be decided upon by that time. To build and equip this line will cost approximately $12,000,000.

LINCOLN WAY IS DELAYED

Congressman Lafean Declares that Congress is in Such a Chaotic Condition that it is not Ready for Big Project.

The following letter concerning the proposed Lincoln Way from Washington to Gettysburg has been received by E. P. Miller, president of the Merchants' Association, who reported its contents to the meeting of the organization held on Friday evening:

Washington, January 25.
My dear Mr. Miller.

I wish to acknowledge receipt of yours of the 19th instant signed by you and G. L. Kieffer, assistant secretary, wherein you inform me that at a recent meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association of Gettysburg, Pa. you were directed to communicate with me for the purpose of ascertaining in what manner you might assist to further the Lincoln Way project.

I regret exceedingly to inform you that owing to the present chaotic condition of affairs in Congress I am unable to make any suggestion at the present time. I still have hopes that I will be able to get favorable action thereon by the present Congress. As stated above, however, owing to the present status of affairs existing at the present time, I am unable to state just what will be the ultimate result.

Thanking you and the association for your kind consideration in this matter and assuring you that I will inform you if there is any way in which you can render any assistance. I am,

Yours very truly,

D. F. Lafean.

There was nothing of public interest transacted at the merchants' meeting Friday night.

SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Beck at McKnightstown, Tuesday evening, January 25, in honor of their daughter, Clara. ### GROUNDHOG DAY

Next Wednesday will be Candlemas Day, or Ground Hog Day. As it is more generally known. It is the day that is supposed to mark the turning point from winter and spring, but whether spring comes or winter stays longer depends upon sunshine and the little groundhog. At least so say the oldtime prophets, and although the experts at the weather bureau sniff at such superstitions, the little animal has plenty of devotees.

It all depends upon the weather on that day and the little groundhog as to what the weather for the next six weeks will be. If, when he emerges from his winter hibernating, place the groundhog chances to see his shadow, he will heat a hasty retreat to his little hole and wait for fairer weather, knowing that a meteorological change is due. But if it is dark and gloomy when he emerges and he sees no shadow the little animal will figure that winter is almost gone and that above ground is the place for him.

ARENDSVILLE TO GET WATER

Company of Prominent Residents of Upper End Town Secure Rights of Way and Plan System. Town Council Favorable.

At a meeting of the Town Council of Arendtsville held Friday evening the matter of furnishing the town with water by the company recently formed in that place was presented and, though no action was taken, it is understood the body is unanimously in favor of the proposition. The matter will be referred to the attorney of the Council and a favorable report is expected in the very near future.

The following well known gentlemen of the upper end town compose the company, H. P. Mark, C. H. Klepper, Dr. Wm. E. Wolf, H. W. Trostel, P. E. Raffensperger, A. F. Trostel and Emery Sheely. Officers have not yet been elected. It is the plan of the company to furnish water for the town for fire protection as well as for private use and consumption.

It is planned to pipe the pure mountain water from the property of George Albert about two miles from Arendtsville. It is also the plan to place the reservoir on the farm of Mrs. Raffensperger above Arendtsville. There will be ample fall to allow sufficient fire protection without the use of an engine.

All the rights of way have been promised and the project has met with favor on all sides, assuring the members of the company success in their undertaking. If the Council ultimately acts favorably on the proposition of the company, as it is confidently expected will be done, success is practically assured and the thriving town of Arendtsville will have another good feature added to its many attractive qualities.

ENTERTAINMENTS BY TOWN TALENT

Large Number Planned for Next Few Weeks. Three Local Minstrel Shows in the Number. Band to Give a Play.

The home talent entertainment germ seems to have invaded Gettysburg in dead earnest and as a result about a half dozen affairs for the purpose of raising money will be given within the next six weeks in this place if present plans carry. Of this number three are to be minstrel shows, that form of entertainment seeming to prove specially popular among Gettysburgians.

The first will be a colored minstrel given by a number of the most prominent colored residents of the town. Their entertainment is scheduled for Walter's Theatre on Friday night, February 18. The men taking part have been practicing for the past three weeks and promise a good show.

The Y. M. C. A. minstrels will follow shortly afterward and the committee having their entertainment in charge are hurrying along preparations. An abundance of local hits are promised for the show and there will be the customary minstrel features with a farce to conclude the evening. The proceeds will, of course, be devoted to the work of the organization.

Gettysburg lodge 124 Independent Order of Odd Fellows have in preparation a minstrel show, also, but the date for this has not been announced. The Citizens' Band is another organization to promise a home talent entertainment in the next few weeks. The entertainment in this case, however, will be a play.

Out at college a play is being prepared and will likely be given in the early part of the Spring term. The number of local talent shows is decidedly greater than other years when only one or two occupied the attention of Gettysburg during the Winter.

SURPRISE PARTY

A very pleasant surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cover, near Orrtanna, in honor of their daughter, Bessie, Thursday evening, January 27th. The evening was very pleasantly spent in music and various games. At a seasonable hour all were invited to the dining room where refreshments were served. Mr. Hyser is a progressive farmer near Taneytown where in the near future he will take his bride. She owns a home in Littlestown where they may reside later on.

Miss Helen Bennett, of Hanover, is visiting Miss May Belle Mills at Barlow.

H. Bankard, and wife and son, Wilmer, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Palmer were guests one day recently at the home of Wellington Brown on route 13.

MAY GO TO SUMMIT

The Chambersburg, Greencastle & Waynesboro Street Railway Company will in all probability extend its line from Pen Mar to Blue Ridge Summit next fall and also from Chambersburg to Shippensburg. It is thought a line could be operated most profitably by the company as there is a large population at Blue Ridge Summit both summer and winter, and the way the people have of getting down the valley is by train or driving.

The extension to Shippensburg has been talked of for some time, but up to this time nothing definite had been done. The committee appointed will go over this route also and then the directors will determine what shall be done.

SAVE MONEY—By buying your Clothing and Furnishings at Myers' Great reduction sale. J. H. Myers, 40 Baltimore street.

FOR SALE—A silver mounted b flat cornet. Write to Lock Box 163, Gettysburg.

The hens of the country never did so big a business as during 1909, the total value of poultry products being $625,000,000, of which amount the value of eggs alone was $300,000,000. The total egg crop of the year is placed at 1,500,000,000 dozen and cost the consumer, at from 30 to 60 cents per dozen, close to $540,000,000.

It is a quite generally accepted fact that apples from an orchard kept in sod are better colored, but smaller in size, than those from trees given continuously clean cultivation. A further fact that seems to have been demonstrated is that the trees under the latter condition not only attain a greater size, but produce a considerably larger quantity of fruit.

DIED FROM POISON

Kansas City Millionaire and Nephew

Were Murdered.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 29.—Colonel Thomas H. Swope, multi-millionaire, and Charman Swope, his nephew, died from strychnine poisoning. This information was contained in a telegram received by John G. Paxton, a private attorney for the Swope heirs. No arrests are expected until next week.

The telegram from Chicago, which announced that Dr. Walter Haines and Dr. Ludwig Kekkonen had found poison in the stomachs of the two dead members of the Swope family, lends confirmation to the theory advanced some weeks ago that a deliberate plot existed to exterminate the entire Swope family.

Colonel Swope, whose fortune is variously estimated at from four to six million dollars, died in convulsions. His nephew died under similar circumstances. Shortly afterwards eight members of the Swope family were stricken with typhoid fever. Then came the startling statement that a person who would benefit by the death of the members of the Swope family had purchased typhoid bacilli from a Kansas City toxicologist. This bacilli, it is alleged, was planted in the Swope home.

AIRSHIP BURNED IN STORAGE HOUSE

Pittsburg Man's Heliplane Reduced to Ashes.

Oakland, Md., Jan. 29.—Destroyed by fire in its storage house on the farm of E. J. Kirkpatrick, twenty miles from this place, nothing but debris remains of an aeroplane, known as a heliplane, built and owned by G. P. Blackiston, of Pittsburg, but formerly of Cumberland and Washington. A bucket brigade was organized by farm employees, but their efforts were of no avail.

The Blackiston heliplane was unknown to the aeronautic world, having been invented and tested secretly by the Pittsburg man. The machine received its inception during the extended stay of Mr. Blackiston at the Brookside farm last August. Some time ago Blackiston received information that unknown parties contemplated tampering with the airship and his representative arrived here Thursday. The detective and people at Brookside suspect incendiarism and the former has started a search for two strange men, seen in the vicinity.

Mr. Blackiston constructed his heliplane under the utmost secrecy, no photographs having ever been taken of it, except by its owner. It is said the airship made several successful flights, and it is rumored that it was the Blackiston heliplane and not the Tillinghast aeroplane that was seen in the vicinity of Long Island and the Massachusetts coast some time ago.

ESCAPE AS IF BY MIRACLE

Twenty children Struck by Flyer and Not Killed.

Andover, O., Jan. 29.—A bobsled carrying twenty school children was struck by a fast Lake Shore & Michigan Southern passenger train on North Main street and carried upwards of 200 feet upon the pilot of the locomotive until brushed off by an engine standing upon a side track.

Not one child was killed and none is thought to be seriously hurt. Pontleton, the driver, was uninjured. One of the horses was hurt and had to be shot.

NAVAL PRISONER SHOT

One Killed, Another Fatally Wounded, Trying to Escape.

Portsmouth, N. H., Jan. 29.—One naval prisoner was shot and killed and a second probably fatally wounded by a guard at the navy yard here while the men were trying to escape in a boat.

A third man accompanying them was recaptured unharmed. The dead man is Raymond F. Sperling, of Indianapolis, Ind., aged twenty-four years, a marine private, who was serving a two years' sentence.

Advertising Pills Injure Child.

Millville, N. J., Jan. 29.—A small child of Charles Hankins was made seriously ill by eating the contents of an envelope which agents had thrown into the yard of the child's home. The envelope contained pills for a remedy which was being advertised in this way. The child finding that the contents of the pills was sweet to the taste ate them. A short time afterwards she was taken ill. A physician saved the tot's life.

Ancient Roman Tomb Discovered.

FOUND AFTER THIRTY YEARS

Kidnaped Boy, Now a Man,
Located in Brooklyn.

HE IS DANGEROUSLY ILL

Thomas Murphy Was Stolen From His Widowed Mother in Johnstown by an Aunt—Was Heard From Eighteen Years Ago.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 29.—Thirty years ago Thomas Murphy, then six years old, was kidnaped by an aunt, and little or nothing was heard from him since that time until a letter was received by the police department on Friday to the effect that Murphy is dangerously ill at his home, 530 Hicks street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The kidnaping of the Murphy boy was one of the sensations of the early eighties in Johnstown. The father of the boy had died but a short time before, and Mrs. Murphy was ill. Little Thomas and John, brothers, were at play near their home in old Cone-maugh borough, now the Tenth ward, when their aunt approached and grasped the younger boy. She made an effort to capture John, too, but this deed and thoroughly frightened youngster eluded her grasp and escaped her clutches.

Thomas was taken away and all efforts to find him and the woman were of no avail. They had disappeared as though the earth had swallowed them. Years passed and hope of ever seeing the boy again was abandoned.

About eighteen years ago, however, when word was received from Thomas Murphy, then a youth just budding into manhood, but the letters written him by local relatives were never answered.

The long silence was not again broken until Friday, when a letter was received by the local police department, with the request that it be delivered to the writer's brother, John Murphy, of this city.

The latter was overjoyed and made haste to communicate with his mother and sister, who are now looking forward to seeing the lost boy again.

KNEE TO ANKLE A MASS OF HUMOR

Suffering Simply Indescribable—
Had to Scratch Till Blood Ran—
Health Undermined from Lack of Sleep—Gave Up Hope but

CUTICURA FREED HIM FROM SKIN-TORMENT

"About seven years ago a small abrasion appeared on my right leg just above my ankle. It irritated me so that I began to scratch it and it began to spread until my leg from my ankle to the knee was one solid scale like a scab. The irritation was always worse at night, and would not allow me to sleep, or my wife either, and it was completely undermining our health. I lost fifty pounds in weight and was almost out of my mind with pain and chagrin as no matter where the irritation came, at work, on the street or in the presence of company, I would have to scratch it until I had the blood running down into my shoe. I simply cannot describe my suffering during those seven years. The pain, mortification, loss of sleep, both to myself and wife is simply indescribable on paper and one has to experience it to know what it is.

"I tried all kinds of doctors and remedies but I might as well have thrown my money down a sewer. They would dry it up for a little while and fill me with hope only to break out again just as bad if not worse. I had given up hope of ever being cured when I was induced by my wife to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial. After taking the Cuticura Remedies for a little while I began to see a change and after taking a dozen bottles of Cuticura, I was free of the trouble. The Cuticura Remedies have done for me what no other medicine could. I feel perfectly safe in extending to you my heartfelt thanks for the good the Cuticura Remedies have done for me. I shall always recommend them to my friends. W. H. White, 312 E. Cabot St., Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 4 and Apr. 13, 1909."

Agreed to Assist in Procuring

Glavis Testified Before Committee
That In 1928 Ballinger Asked Him to Postpone Investigation Until After the Election, as Claimants Refused to Contribute to Republican Campaign Fund.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The investigation of the charges against Secretary Ballinger took a new turn when the name of United States Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, became involved.

Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Glavis, who made the original charges against Ballinger, led to the present inquiry, offered in evidence the journal of Clarence Cunningham, of Wallace, Idaho, the agent in all the Cunningham claims to coal lands in Alaska. The journal contained this entry:

"Have agreed with Mr. J. W. B. Heyburn in consideration for his services as attorney, to carry him for one claim of 160 acres in the coal, free of cost to him, and he agrees to do all our legal work in procuring titles, etc."

Louis R. Glavis, the author of the charges against Ballinger, continued his testimony. He said that Mr. Ballinger urged him to postpone his investigation of the Cunningham coal land cases until after the presidential election of 1928. The request was made, however, after Mr. Ballinger had ceased to be commissioner of the general land office and while he was a member of the Republican national campaign committee. The postponement was asked at a conference in Portland, Ore., in October, 1928. The reason assigned by Mr. Ballinger, according to the witness, was that two of the Cunningham coal land claimants, A. C. Henry and I. D. Smith, of Seattle, had refused to contribute to the Republican campaign fund because the government was holding up patents to their coal entries. This was the most interesting disclosure of his testimony.

SENATOR HEYBURN.

Glavis told of numerous differences with Mr. Ballinger in the interval during which the present secretary of the interior was out of office in 1928. How Mr. Ballinger admitted on one occasion that he was attorney for the "Green group" of Alaska coal claimants, and on another occasion admitted that the Cunningham claimants were "in a bad way," and asked Glavis what could be done to extricate them.

The name of Guggenheim also came out. When the journal of Clarence Cunningham, which Glavis obtained and copied, was introduced in evidence, the reading of it disclosed a number of acknowledgments for money advanced by Daniel Guggenheim for engineering work on the claims. Attorney Brandeis, for Glavis, called attention to a letter of H. H. Schwartz, chief of field agents, in commenting on the Guggenheim entries as a suspicious circumstance.

PARIS IN DESPAIR AS FLOOD RISES

Water Engulfs Area Where Noted Buildings Stand.

SEWERS ARE EXPLODING

Conditions in French Capital Are Rapidly Growing Worse, With No Relief in Sight—Food Sought For 2000 Babies.

Paris, Jan. 29.—The Seine is still rising and the flood here is rapidly growing worse.

At the meteorological station the experts say that heavy rains may be expected for some time to come. The whole of the Quai d'Orsay in front of the Orleans railway terminus has now given way owing to the enormous pressure of the water in the tunnel beneath, and the fashionable Saint Germain quarter behind it is now flooded to a depth of eight feet.

The condition of the sewers is causing the greatest fears. The whole quarter around the St. Lazare station has been barred to all traffic. The central telephone station has been invaded by water and great delay is expected in the forwarding of dispatches.

The temperature has fallen and pitiful scenes and intense suffering were multiplied among all classes.

Exploding sewers, filled to bursting with the torrent that has wrecked and put the subway out of commission; unsafe buildings that make every one near fear for their lives, and the absence of any signs of relief from the present beleaguered situation added to the general feeling of terror that is spreading among the population.

The subway under the Place de l'Opera has collapsed, and the sidewalk in front of the New York Equitable society's building has sunk in.

The half buried Ile St. Louis, which is connected with the Ile de la Cite by means of the Pont St. Louis, is likely to be totally submerged within a few hours, as the water is now only a few inches from the parapet.

Authorities Becoming Exhausted.

The authorities continue to battle bravely with the situation, but their resources are becoming exhausted. The police, firemen and soldiers who have been on duty night and day since Monday are worn out and volunteers to aid in the work of rescue and relief were called for.

The improvised dykes along the quays have broken and the chief efforts are now directed to keeping the bridges free of an accumulation of driftwood.

Men with ropes fastened about their bodies are lowered over the sides of the bridges into the freezing water to further this work. Red Cross ambulances go clanging through the streets. The soldiers are replacing the police for sentinel duty, giving the city the appearance of being in a state of siege.

War would hardly play such havoc. The "City of Light" has become a city of slime, filled with muddy waters. Business is almost at a standstill, and the hotels are crowded with persons who have fled from inundated homes. The prices of necessities are advancing by leaps and bounds as the paralysis of transportation facilities entering the city extends. The North river railroad alone of the vast network of railways still operates directly into the city, and the operation of this line is threatened by the deplorable situation at the St. Lazare station, where the tracks are submerged and the immense building is in danger of falling as a result of broken water mains beneath its foundation.

Disaster followed disaster during the day. A gaping chasm opened in the lower Champs Elysees, engulfing a cart and two men. One of the men was rescued, but the other man, with the horse, was swept away to his death.

All Traffic Held Up.

Within the city there is practically no means of transportation except by cabs and taxicabs, the owners of which charge fabulous prices.

At the Place Pereire the main drain exploded, flooding the subway, and the workmen inside narrowly escaped with their lives. Another main broke, emptying its contents into the basement of the principal market and destroying the entire reserve stock of provisions.

The Place du Palais Bourbon, where the deputies are now sitting, is nearly isolated.

While a corporal and two soldiers in a rowboat were trying to deliver the orders of their commander the boat was swept into the Seine and the corporal fell overboard. The two soldiers sprang into the seething waters to save their comrade, and after an exciting effort the corporal and one soldier were rescued with ropes thrown by sailors on shore. The other soldier was drowned.

Both the government and the municipal administration have decided to adopt strong measures to prevent shopkeepers from unduly raising the price of food, but as the climax is reached the authorities appear to be concerned with what may follow even more than with the present situation.

The fear that pestilence will stalk in the wake of the flood is great, and arrangements are being perfected to insure the prompt disinfection and cleaning of the city as soon as the waters subside.

A touching evidence of the conditions above the city came in the shape of an urgent appeal from Charenton for food and fresh clothing for 2000 babies rescued at Alfortville and Ivry, and who have been without clothing for four days.

The historic Hotel Lambert and Hotel Lauzan and Gare St. Lazare are ready to collapse. The Louvre, with its priceless relics, is again threatened and will be flooded unless the waters recede.

City's Heart Inundated.

The devastation has now penetrated the very heart of Paris, the gorging rivers and sewers underneath literally blowing up the streets, while the area of the surface overflowed by the waters of the Seine has been doubled.

The sewers with which the foundation of Paris is honeycombed have complicated and added to recent flood disasters. The main sewers are eighteen feet in diameter, and the total length of this network of drain is 500 miles.

Under flood pressure these vast tunnels burst and have undermined the foundations of buildings. As these tubes also contain water conduits, gas pipes, telephone and power wires, as well as the pneumatic postal tubes, the effects of a bursting sewer are widespread and serious.

The Catacombs extending under a considerable part of the left river bank afford another refuge for the waters.

The subways opened in 1900 furnish further underground avenues for the flood. The main subway line runs east and west through the center of the city from the Porte de Vincennes to the Porte Maillot, a distance of seven miles.

It took eight years for him to do so, and now he says he is well fixed and will make up to his wife and children what they have endured during the eight years that he has been away.

The wife and children have had a hard struggle. One boy was a boot black and another got into trouble and is now in the Glen Mills reformatory. His father will try to have him released.

FAVORS OPENING COAL LANDS

House Committee Reports Bill to Admit 30,000,000 Acres to Entry.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The house committee on public lands voted to report favorably the Mondell bill admitting to entry the surface of coal lands in the United States. The measure affects about 30,000,000 acres of land in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

The bill makes it possible for actual settlers to make entry upon the surface of coal lands under the homestead act of the desert land entry law and also makes possible withdrawals under the reclamation act. The United States would issue a patent to such lands, but would reserve all rights to coal on the land, as well as the privilege of prospecting mining and removing the coal.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderful beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old time cure some method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c, and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended People's Drug Store.

Monarch Light Touch

A typewriter is not an automatic machine with a fixed output; the amount of work produced must always be dependent upon the operator.

The operator begins work in the morning with a certain supply of physical energy. With the ordinary heavy working typewriter she exhausts that energy before the day's end—then comes "three o'clock fatigue" and slow, dragging work.

Monarch Light Touch lightens the operator's load—draws less on her energy per folio. The result is that the operator is able to maintain full speed right up to closing time, finishing fresh and strong. Her efficiency is increased, the output of her machine is enlarged, and consequently the per folio cost of typewriting to her employer is reduced.

Let us demonstrate this and other Monarch features to you.

DEVIL'S RACE COURSE

"The Blue Ridge mountains abound in natural wonders," observed H. E. Barnes, of Pen Mar. "Most wonderful of them all, in my opinion, is the Devil's Race Course."

"At first this natural phenomenon appears like a broad roadway of great stones, which extends away up the mountain in a path no human hand could ever build. Many of these great stones weigh tons, while others are only a few hundred weight. Lying close together by the thousands they present an extraordinary spectacle.

"Tradition has it, and scientists agree, that a thousand or more years ago this strange track was the bed of an ancient river. The conclusion is drawn from the looks of the stones; they are all well rounded and worn smooth, showing the action of water, which has passed their rough edges, no doubt, for the courses in not hemmed in by high banks, nor is it located in a ravine. In fact, it stands somewhat higher than the natural side of the mountain. This puzzle only intensifies in the queer place and multiplies the arguments and theories of its prehistoric origin."

A SEVERE CRITICISM.

There has been much criticism recently of the method which is followed by the government in the disposal of public lands, which requires the would be homesteader to travel hundreds or thousands of miles to register for a drawing when hardly one person in 300 can possibly be successful. One of the severest critics of this system in vogue is President Hill of the Great Northern road, which has been benefited to the extent of millions of dollars in car fare through the transportation of folks to these land drawings. In speaking of the Flathead Indian reservation drawing in western Montana, Mr. Hill says that less than 2 per cent of the people who registered had a chance to draw any land at all, while a good share of the claims which were thrown open to entry were well nigh worthless. He concludes: "I have met lots of people who gave up good positions in the east and went out there, only to be bitterly disappointed. The thing is entirely impracticable and on the order of a swindle to take the people's money away and give it to the railroads." In view of such a condemnation as this, coming as it does from a beneficiary of the system at present in vogue, it would seem that Uncle Sam might well see his way clear to devise a more just and less expensive method of disposing of his public domain.

The Only Way

Many Gettysburg Citizens Have Discovered It.

Just what to do when the kidneys are affected is a question that concerns both young and old. Weak kidneys neglected in childhood lead to life-long suffering. People of advanced years, with less vitality, suffer doubly. In youth or age, languor, backache, urinary irregularity, dizziness and nervousness, make life a burden.

There is one remedy that acts directly on the kidneys and cures these troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills owe their world-wide fame to the fact that they cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Follow the example of this Gettysburg citizen and you will be convinced that this is so.

Mrs. Frank Tawney, 28 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with excellent results. I publicly endorsed them two years ago and hold just as high an opinion of them at this time. A member of my family was afflicted with kidney trouble for years and probably inherited it. This person suffered a great deal from pains in his back and sides and was unable to control the kidney secretions. A cold always aggravated the complaint. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box at the People's Drug Store and their use effected a complete cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

TYPE OF THE HOLSTEIN.

Breeders Trying to Improve the Milk and Beef Form of This Breed.

With large size as the recognized predominant characteristic of the Holstein, aside from its beautiful black and white color markings in perfectly defined patches or spots, the next general definition relates to the general conformation of the animal. There are three different types, described as the milk and beef form, the milk form and beef form, says an expert breeder.

The average form of this breed and that toward which conscientious breeders are directing their efforts to maintain and improve is the milk and beef form.

The milk and beef type of the breed is especially strong in all vital particulars. The bones are fine compared with the high and sharp chine of the extreme milk form. The loin and hips are broad and smooth and the rump high and level compared with the angularity usually shown in the milk form. The twist is roomy and the thighs and hocks well apart. Passing forward, the shoulders are smoother and more compact than in the milk form, but of lighter weight than in the beef form.

appearance of the bull is strongly masculine, but that of the cow is no less feminine than in the milk form.

It may be further emphasized that the milk and beef form describes a cow of the wedge form, with shoulders moderately thick, deep and broad, crops well filled, barrel well rounded, loin and hips broad and full and quarters straight, wide and full. To this form of these cattle is due their extraordinary constitutional vigor or vital force, and it affects all their relations to their food, care and production. The milk and beef form is not accompanied with the angularity of appearance, the light shoulders and chest and the comparatively light quarters of cattle of the milk form.

NO GROUND FOR DISCOURAGEMENT.

Just because the Missouri, Michigan or New York orchardist reads of fruit returns from the mountain and Pacific coast states far surpassing any he has been able to secure is no reason why he should throw up the sponge, if he feels inclined to do so, and grub out his trees. Rather should he take account of the careful methods by which the western fruit ranchman is able to secure such high returns—namely, painstaking husbandry of the soil, great care in pruning and spraying, costly thinning, which insures fruit of a proper size and lastly, and as important as any factor, co-operation in the matter of packing and marketing. Many a New England orchard has been rejuvenated and made immensely profitable by the employment of scientific methods in caring for it, and many another may be made a large source of revenue if handled in the same way. Nearness to market is another factor decidedly to the advantage of the eastern apple grower, as it costs about 90 cents a bushel to land the bushel box of fancy fruit from the Pacific coast in New York or Boston. Let eastern orchard owners make their orchards a primary instead of a second or third rate consideration and give them the attention that the western ranchman does his and they will be surprised at the results.

A NEW MEXICO QUERY.

A lady reader of these notes living near Mountair, N. M., writes inquiring if strawberries will grow and do well in the rich chocolate soil of that section and if they will need covering during the winter. While the writer is not acquainted personally with the section in question, two or three general statements may be made which will be helpful. In the first place, chocolate soil is usually as rich in fertilizing elements as any other and would seem to be all right for the strawberry. A more important consideration would be sufficient moisture to insure the growth of the plants and the maturing of the fruit, and this would have to be supplied by ditch at needed times if the rainfall were not sufficient. Cultivation should be given often enough to keep the soil mellow and to conserve the moisture. If during the months when the plants were dormant the mercury did not go lower than 10 above zero, the bed would hardly need covering. However, in this connection it is well to keep in mind the fact that it is not degrees of cold that kill berry vines, but alternate thawing and freezing, and local conditions would determine to quite an extent the probable danger from this source.

BLOOD TOLD.

That blood will tell, even in the raising of corn, was nicely illustrated in the case of an Iowa grower who paid $5.35 per bushel for his seed at the State Agricultural college. To prove to his own satisfaction the value of pure bred seed over the best seed selected from common corn, he planted the pure bred seed—Reid's Yellow Dent—in rows alongside the other corn. Both plots had the same stand and received the same cultivation and care. At husking time the pure bred corn yielded at the rate of seventy-one and a half bushels per acre, while the scrub corn gave a return of fifty-nine bushels, a difference of eleven and a half bushels per acre. Since a bushel of corn will plant seven acres it is quite clear that this amount of seed would produce an increased yield equal to seven times that on one acre, or eighty and a half bushels. If this corn was worth 50 cents a bushel, the bushel of seed was worth in crop returns $40.25 more than the common corn. It would be well for the corn grower to have instances of this in mind when he pays a long price for good seed corn next spring.

Many an animal abundantly equipped with pedigree is put up at the dispersion sale as a full blooded animal fit for breeding purposes when in appearance and getup it is essentially a scrub and instead of becoming sire or dam—the progenitor of other scrubs—ought to be converted into beefsteak or pork chops and its pedigree used to light the fire. Atavism, this tendency in an animal to show scrub traits of an ancestor, is perhaps more often seen in cattle than in sheep or hogs, but when it or other disqualifications appear in any pedigreed animal it should serve as a bar to its sale as a breeding animal.
